Members of North Carolina Synod Resume Sessions at Goldboro.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Goldboro, N. C., October 17.—The principal topic of conversation among the members of the Synod of North Carolina to-day was the pleasure of the trip to Richmond and the unbounded courtesy and hospitality extended to them during their stay in the capital of Virginia. Every member of the crew of the special train was presented with a copy of the Bible upon arrival in Goldboro.

The Synod of North Carolina returned to Goldboro this afternoon and convened in business session at 2:30 o'clock. After the enrollment of additional delegates the committee on arrangements submitted its report relative to the special orders to be observed during the remaining sessions of synod. Announcement was made that a collection for the orphanage amounting to more than $50 had been taken on the train, and synod instructed that this amount be used as the board of regents and superintendent of the orphanage may direct.
The committee on schools and colleges submitted an encouraging report, showing an increase in the number of students in both the synodical and presbyterial schools. The amount of money contributed to schools and colleges the past year did not show any increase, and explanation was made that this was due to the special efforts that have been made during this time in the interests of the endowment of Davidson College and Union Theological Seminary.

The next special order to be considered by synod was the report of the board of regents of the orphanage home. Rev. H. J. Hill, chairman of the board, submitted this report. There are at this time 135 children in the home. During the past year ten completed the course of study and twenty-two united with the church. The health conditions at the home are good and the work of the school and church is encouraging.

During the year a number of payments have been made on the $50,000 pledge for equipment of the home, which synod pledged one year ago. It was recommended that $25,000 be applied to the home for expenses the coming year.
The report of the committee on women's societies, submitted by Rev. C. G. Vardeil, was the occasion of a good deal of discussion, but it was finally adopted. In accordance with the action of the women's conference held at Montreat last summer, the women's societies will be known hereafter as presbyterials and synodicals, instead of unions as formerly. The number of presbyterials is 215, with a membership of 8,186. During the past year the amount contributed by the presbyterials was as follows: foreign missions, $14,109; home missions, $6,432; local causes, $11,582; other causes, $4,156; total, $36,222.
Rev. J. E. Bridges, editor, addressed synod in the interest of the Presbyterian Standard, and urged that it be more largely supported. Rev. W. E. McIlwaine, Rev. A. J. McKelway, a former editor of the Standard, and other members of synod commended the paper highly. The present number of subscribers is 4,000, and special effort is being made to increase the number to 10,000 as soon as possible.

A popular meeting in the interest of foreign missions was held this evening, and Rev. R. L. Wharton, missionary to Cuba, delivered the address. Among the visitors to synod to-morrow will be J. P. McCallie, of Chattanooga, chairman of the "million and a half campaign," and he will speak in that interest.

The report of the committee on foreign missions, submitted this evening, showed that the synod this year has contributed $22,336 to foreign missions, with a membership of less than 50,000 and an increase of $10,446 over last year. The per capita contribution this year was $1.78 against $1.57 last year. Wilmington Presbytery gave $4.97 per capita, leading all the presbyteries in this report. Fifteen churches in the synod gave more than $500, and constituted the honor roll. The Presbyterial Church in Asheville leading, with a per capita contribution of $25.59 and the First Church, Wilmington, with a contribution of $21.23 per member, coming second. The report recommended that each missionary receive a salary of $1,000, and that the synod observe "Foreign Mission Day," a part of one day during each session of synod. Greensboro, Raleigh, Hickory and Fayetteville were nominated as the place for holding the session of synod next year, and Greensboro was selected, and October 5, 1913, fell as the day of meeting.

IN SESSION AT WAVELEY.

Central Convention to Session of Southern Virginia.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Waverly, Va., October 17.—The final meeting of the Central Convention in the Diocese of Southern Virginia has been in session at Christ Church, Waverly, since Monday evening of this week. There are about twenty ministers in attendance. Devotional exercises have been held each day at 9:30 o'clock A. M., preaching at 11 o'clock, business meeting at 3:30 o'clock P. M. and preaching again at 8 P. M.

The special object of the convocation is to further the missionary work of the Protestant Episcopal Church in its territory, which includes seventeen counties of this State, and there have been many able and inspiring addresses delivered by the speakers present. Rev. C. B. Bryan, D. D., of Petersburg, is dean, and Rev. F. G. Ribble, also of Petersburg, is secretary of the convocation.

The last meeting was held to-night at 8 o'clock, at which time Rev. E. P. Danridge, of Petersburg, occupied the pulpit.

Rev. R. D. Garland, of Richmond, is conducting a revival service at the Waverly Baptist Church.
J. B. Hancock, one of the leading merchants of Waverly, is desperately ill at his home on Main Street.
The Board of Supervisors of Sussex County held its regular monthly meeting at Sussex Courthouse to-day. Efforts are still being made to overtake the party who on Saturday last murdered Albert J. Dunn, near his presbyterial and synodical, instead of unions as formerly. The number of presbyterials is 215, with a membership of 8,186. During the past year the amount contributed by the presbyterials was as follows: foreign missions, $14,109; home missions, $6,432; local causes, $11,582; other causes, $4,156; total, $36,222.

Marriage Licenses.

NEGRO FUGITIVE FINALLY CAUGHT

Gus Neal Forced to Surrender at Point of a Pistol.

Wanted for Many Crimes

Wilson-Marshall-Watson Club
Organized at Petersburg.

Times-Dispatch Bureau,
5 Bollingbrook Street,
(Telephone 1435).

Petersburg, Va., October 17.
Chief Ragland, assisted by Detective Wright and Chief Brinkley, of Suffolk, this afternoon arrested Gus Neal, a notorious negro criminal, for whom search has been made for months. Neal is primarily wanted for housebreaking in Dinwiddie and as a fugitive from justice. Secondly, he is wanted for crimes alleged to have been committed at various other points in Virginia and North Carolina. In March last, while awaiting trial, he escaped from Dinwiddie jail, liberating two other prisoners at the same time. These were recaptured, but Neal has been at large ever since. He is known as a desperado, who travels the country armed with a rifle or shotgun and small arms. Chief Ragland this morning received information of his presence in the city, and immediately went for him, commanding his surrender at the point of a pistol. Neal weakened at sight of the weapon and surrendered. He saw that the officers had the advantage of him.

Normal Institute Improvements.
The executive committee of the Virginia Normal and Industrial Institute near this city met yesterday afternoon, with Judge Asa D. Watkins, of Farmville; T. O. Sandy, of Burkeville, and John D. Watkins, of Petersburg, present. The committee approved improvements recently completed on the grounds, including the artesian well just sunk, which yields seventy-two gallons of water per minute. Plans for the erection of a new residence on the grounds were accepted, and other business was transacted.

Bowling Teams Selected.
At the meeting of the Petersburg Bowling Association last the four captains recently elected reported the line-ups of the several teams for the season, which were approved. They are as follows:
"Cockades"—Jones, captain; Ennis, G. Burgess, E. Barksdale, Johnson and Piers.
"Beaucares"—Walker, captain; Southall, Harrison, J. Barksdale, Pitts and Lewis.
"Olympics"—J. Burgess, captain; Andrew, Scott, Minstrea, D. Burgess and Talmage.
"Athletics"—Lanter, captain; Whitman, Irvine, Connor, Norton and W. E. Brown.

A schedule for the season is to be arranged. Prizes will be awarded at the close. First team, $30; second, $20; third, $10.

Slight Frost.
The first frost of consequence in this section was noticed this morning, following a cold, still night. It is not believed to have been severe enough to cause much damage. The crops are generally housed, though there may be some tobacco and peanuts still in the fields.

Organize for Campaign.
A Wilson, Marshall and Watson club was organized here to-night with a large membership, and the following officers: president, R. P. Barham; secretary, W. M. Martin; treasurer, J. Henry Turner, and the following vice-presidents: First Ward, J. J. Nelms; Second Ward, Sidney Fischer; Third Ward, J. Nat. Harrison; Fourth Ward, W. H. Land; Fifth Ward, W. H. Fry; Sixth Ward, Robert L. Bass. The officers will meet to-morrow in the Chamber of Commerce to elect a finance committee. Hon. Richard E. Byrd was present and made an address. While the family was at supper last night, a thief entered the residence of H. F. Munt, on Washington Street, and secured more than $100. The upper rooms were ransacked, but nothing but money was taken. Not a piece of jewelry was touched. It is supposed the robbery was committed by some visiting crook.

SENTIMENT

When we were young and inexperienced we used to laugh at people who doted upon some old antique (true Colonial), but we have long since learned that a lot of wood nailed and glued together was one thing and satisfied a class of people, but that it was incumbent upon the true-honest merchant, to furnish his patrons with fittings of taste and durability.

By careful buying, we are prepared to furnish at reasonable prices—PERIOD GOODS—and goods that will last and can be handed down to posterity with sentiment.
